Re: Security Council Extends Sanctions on South Sudan, Adopting Resolution 2633 (2022)

Dear Registrant,

The Compliance Commission wishes to inform that the Security Council adopted a resolution extended for a year the sanctions regime imposed on South Sudan, including the arms embargo, travel ban and financial measures.

The Council strongly condemned past and ongoing human rights violations in South Sudan and expressed deep concern at continued fighting in that country. It also decided to renew, until 31 May 2023, the measures on arms imposed by resolution 2428 (2018), which direct all Member States to prevent the direct or indirect supply, sale or transfer of arms to the territory of South Sudan.

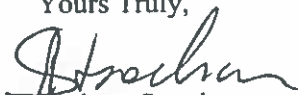

Further terms extended the travel and financial measures put in place by resolution 2206 (2015), according to which all Member States shall take measures to freeze the financial assets of designated individuals and prevent their entry into or transit through their territories.

By its other terms, the Council decided to extend until 1 July 2023 the mandate of the Panel of Experts, as set out in paragraph 19 of resolution 2428 (2018), deciding further that the Panel should provide to the Council an interim report by 1 December 2022, a final report by 1 May 2023, and updates in the other months of that period, after discussion with the Sanctions Committee.
